

FY24 Performance Review

Amundson, Kyle

1. How has this person progressed over the last 12 months?

Explain how this growth has helped this person achieve their goals and/or positively impacted their performance. Refer to this person's feedback, self-reflection, and goals in the profile to the right. This will give you a more holistic view of their performance over the last 12 months.

- Kyle has made great progress this year in reporting and creating actionable insights. I want to support Kyle in continuing to grow and flex this muscle coming in FY2025, understanding and highlighting drivers of business results, as well as backing up strategies and recommendations with data.
- She has also had a great year of growth as a new people manager, leading her team to drive strong results for the year, and also navigating new challenges that come with people management, including employees not meeting expectations.

2. What was this person's impact on team and department and organizational goals over the last 12 months?

Describe the specific impact they had and behaviors they exhibited.

- Kyle played a critical role in the success of the CRM team this past year, owning the day to day strategy and execution of CRM and taking it to the next level thru segmentation, while navigating a clunky marketing tech stack. Full year CRM comp actualized at +8.6%
- Kyle also successfully helped grow our SMS demand to 26% of total CRM of total revenue, finding new ways to drive enrollment, including implementing Wunderkind text to join functionality, as well as testing into numerous new segmentation approaches to help increase file retention.
- Kyle focused on optimizing all of the elements within the email experience, implementing new Girls and Boys segmentation, continuing to enable Baby and Collab segmentation, and also testing new behavior-based segments. This segmentation, combined with segmented content and content testing, and close partnership with the site team on linking, resulted in a CVR increase of +12% Y/Y in Q4.

- Kyle also began more rigorous reporting on tests weekly, driving actions and insights for the business and team.

3. What blockers or challenges did this person experience over the last 12 months that impacted their ability to achieve goals or meet expectations?

Describe blockers that they managed to overcome as well as those they did not and note any obstacles that were outside of their control.

- Given new leadership (company-wide) and within the CRM team, as well as big goals for the company and CRM, there was a lot of flux and demands on the team (time, priorities). Kyle's calm, thoughtful approach enabled her to ride this change and pressure with grace, continuing to be an incredible cross-functional partner (including Creative Services, Site Team, Loyalty), working to drive the business like she owned it, creatively problem solving and seeing work thru completion.
- Over the next year, I would like to see Kyle identify ways to streamline and/or automate existing processes, especially as we transition to new vendors with new functionality that will change current processes.
- Additionally, I want Kyle to reach out more for help with prioritization, as well as delegating tasks to either other members of her team (e.g., Monday reporting) or 3rd party vendors (e.g. asking existing ESP and SMS vendors to pull data, complete tasks, etc).

4. What are 2-3 skills or competencies you'd like them to focus on for further development?

The skills or competencies should be challenging but within reach for the employee. Describe skills that will add to this person's ability to make an impact in the organization. Be sure to highlight ways that these skills will capitalize on this person's strengths and personal career interests.

- I would like to see Kyle play a bigger role in driving our personalization and segmentation roadmap, through a structured planning, test, learn and rollout process. Kyle's tremendous understanding of our customer, email levers and processes, enable her to play an important role as we transform the way we work and impact of CRM on the business.
 - Related to the above, I would like Kyle to lead our testing roadmap, from strategic ideation, to execution and readout, ensuring we are aligned on test objectives and KPIs, tests are prioritized based on business impact, results are stat sig, tracked and communicated, and that next steps are clearly outlined, in a structured manner.
 - Lastly, I would like to see Kyle continue to build and flex her analytical muscle, backing strategy with data and speaking quantifiably to drivers of the business.
-

5. Which of our core values do you see this person exemplifying most often? In what ways has this positively impacted their work, teamwork, and relationships with others in the organization?

Describe specific examples where they've embodied one or more cultural value and evidence of its impact.

- Enduring: through all of the changes in the past year, from new leadership to 3 managers, the launch of SMS, increased segmentation, promotional pivots, and starting the launch of a new ESP, Kyle has always kept her cool, continued to move forward with grace and a sense of humor, and overall solution orientation, which showed in FY CRM performance.
-

6. How well did this person deliver on their objectives or goals?

Please refer to the toolkit for more information about internal definitions of our performance measures.

Needs Development

✓ Consistently Meets Expectations

Often Exceeds Expectations

Sets a New Standard

7. Overall, how would you evaluate this person's performance?

Please refer to the toolkit for more information about internal definitions of our performance measures.

Needs Development

✓ Consistently Meets Expectations

Often Exceeds Expectations

Sets a New Standard

8. Provide any additional information that you would like to include in this evaluation that wasn't captured in the above form. Consider answering: What can this person start, stop, and continue to better reach their objectives?

This could include any impact they had outside their day-to-day role, situations that impacted the organization or team, or any other information that might provide context to the review.

- Continue being an amazing cross-functional partner! It has been said many times, but you are a well-respected partner to many, with your relationship with Creative Services standing out most notably (among many).
- Continue your transparency about frustrations, opportunities, and where you need help. Please continue to lean on me to help you, and ask for help more!

- Kyle is an absolute pleasure to work with and an extremely valued member of the team. I appreciate her thought partnership, strategic and practical mindset, and look forward to supporting her in her continued growth over the next year!
-

9. [IF INDIVIDUAL BEING REVIEWED IS A PEOPLE LEADER] Describe this person's performance as a people manager.

Provide specific examples. How effective are they at driving results through their team? How effective are they at building a positive team dynamic and developing their direct reports?

- Kyle has built great camaraderie and trust with her direct reports and across the CRM team. Given she understands how everything works, she can support them with the quick pivots, help ensure workload is balanced, and has built trust and friendship that you can feel.
- Kyle's opportunities as a manager lie in setting clear expectations (including timelines, outcomes and ownership), managing thru difficult situations and conversations, and developing her team.